

Transcription Services

At U.S. Legal Support, we lead the industry in legal transcription services. Whether the source material is an audio recording, a written document, or something more unusual — say, a rap song, video from a body camera, text from a Facebook page or a recorded 911 emergency call — our transcriptionists can transform it into a written record - and useful evidence.

You name it, we'll transcribe it.

With decades in the legal transcription business, we have experience transcribing a wide variety of recordings, such as statements, interviews, depositions, court proceedings, arbitrations, focus groups, surveillance footage, wire taps, phone calls, voicemails, meetings, television broadcasts, internet webcasts, seminars, and presentations.

We can also transcribe audio and video files from all file formats, as well as webcast/internet streaming, videocassette, audio cassette, microcassette, and cell phone recordings, including synchronizing to a transcript, if requested.

Any Language

Thanks to our robust translations team, foreign language transcription is never an issue. Our team of professional translators provide translation and transcription of written or audio content and can translate that same content into multiple languages, when needed.
